D'une Master-Class à Sienne à une Master-Class 2.0

The Master-Class is an academic network for education and professionalization of highly qualified students. This work, which responds to the professional and human stakes of the new generations, involves a dialogue on disciplines including ethics and intergenerational issues, and a reversed pedagogy that has put the student at the core of the process.

The 9th edition of the Master-Class was to be held at the Università per Stranieri di Siena (I) on January 27, 28 and 29, 2021. The COVID 19 pandemic decided otherwise!

Setting up a new Master-Class format based on shared assessment

- The multidimensional health crisis of COVID 19, further stressed the relevance of the mission of the Master-Class to facilitate access to the labour market.
- The need to elaborate a Master-Class 2.0 around three main ideas:
 - * Beyond essential learning, we must solve the problems we face together
 - * Understand digital technologies better and their intercultural management and then, study the invention of new codes of collaboration for the engineering of European territorial cooperation.
 - * But the human bond remains the foundation of the cooperation project and as soon as possible it will be necessary to return on a face-to-face relationship!

A new evolutionary pedagogical model for a Master-Class 2.0

A cycle of 6 sequences from Wednesday 27 January to Friday 29 January 2021.
It will be completely digital: "A Master-Class 2.0".

The Master-Class 2.0: it is a co-production of professionals, professors and students from 15 university sites :
